Press release

The agreement means that brokers using Norton Broker Services now have access to a range of first and second charge residential and commercial bridging loans, development and refurbishment finance products from TAB.

Launched in 2018, TAB has developed a robust lending model, with the flexibility to consider the wider spectrum of a borrower's circumstances. Through varied funding sources from institutions to individuals, the lender is able to finance a diverse range of projects.

Norton Broker Services offers a personal experience to all of its customers, with every case having a dedicated advisor who processes the application from start to finish.

I'm delighted that we are now offering TAB and its range of bridging lending through Norton Broker Services. More brokers are realising the benefits of bridging finance and how it can help their investor clients to achieve their objectives, and lenders like TAB offer the flexibility that's needed to make deals work in often complex situations. Sector expertise is key in this market, which is why we would always recommend partnering with a business like Norton Broker Services, which has the experience, knowledge and contacts to ensure the best outcome for the client.

Sonny Gosai, Senior Sales & Development Manager at Norton Broker Services

I am delighted that we are now a panel member for Norton Broker Services, this is a great step for TAB. It shows we are mirroring our values of trust and transparency, and that this is understood and valued by respected packagers such as Norton Broker Services. TAB is excited to offer our entire bridging and development finance range to their authorised representatives and to provide their clients with efficient and respectable lending.

Dave Jackson, Business Development Manager at TAB
